Three loves inspire a man to do bigger and better things

* * * *

One love is the love of woman.

* * * *

Another is the love of power.

* * * *

The third is the love of money.

* * * *

And of all these loves, the love of a woman is the greatest.

* * * *

When one accomplishes the goal he has set out for because of his love of a woman he is happy.

* * * *

The man who realizes what he goes after because he loves power, is happy after a fashion.

* * * *

But the man who fights for the sheer love of money soon realizes the sham . . . and is unhappy.

* * * *

The man who stands today on the top of the pile . . . with more money than he can spend . . . with untold power . . . would gladly sell his power . . . his fame . . . his position for one bit of youth.

* * * *

It's odd how ungrateful men are.

* * * *

It seems that as soon as a man acquires a bit of fame and power, he casts aside those who have aided him in climbing to the pinnacle of fame.

* * * *

Napoleon had his Josephine . . . whom he cast aside for another woman.

* * * *

And Mussolini, whose emulation of Napoleon has astounded the world, has cast aside his wife.

* * * *

She, who aided him through the dark period of his life, when he was but a Socialistic editor of a small town, rabid newspaper, lives apart from her husband . . . the Duce, Ace, and the whole pack of cards of Italy.

* * * *

One doesn't wonder what Mark Twain once remarked,

* * * *

NEW COLORS FOR KEY CARS

The new color scheme of the Key System made its appearance in Richmond yesterday.

A No. 2 line car painted green and cream was sent here. The body of the car is a dark green and the window pillars and top are cream. The front of the car is distinctly painted in the green and cream color.

The new cars are being painted at the Emeryville shops of the company at the rate of one a day.

Officials of the Key announced yesterday that in a short time, all of the cars will be painted in the new style.

Lindbergh To Receive Medal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—UP—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh arrived in Washington by airplane this afternoon to receive a special congressional medal, which President Hoover will present the famous flier tomorrow. They flew here from New York. After landing at Bolling field at 4:03 p.m., they drove to a Washington hotel.

VICTIMS OF DRY SPELL TO BE AIDED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—UP—Formulation of a national program for drought relief was announced by President Hoover tonight after a conference of governors from stricken states.

The objects will be, first to assist families over the winter in cases where they are deprived of support through loss of crops! second, to prevent unnecessary sacrifice of livestock; and third, to protect health.

A four-fold program for achieving these results was agreed upon as follows:

Program Told

1.—Placing of loans privately or where necessary with assistance of state or national agencies.

2.—Red Cross assistance.

3.—Increasing employment.

4.—Reduction of railway rates for food, feed and livestock to the distressed districts.

State Aid

The president emphasized, however, that the burden of relief rests primarily on the states and counties, supplemented by what help the federal government can give.

White House efforts appear to have coincided with providential rains reported by the U. S. weather bureau in many drought districts. In many places rainfall of as much as one inch soaked the wilted fields. this gave hope that some of the anticipated crop losses might be salvaged, though department of agricultural experts have estimated roughly that paper losses are likely to exceed three-quarters of a billion dollars figured on present market prices.

The real extent of the damage could not be determined, the presi-

LOCAL WOMAN FACES CHARGES

OAKLAND, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Maria Sanchez, 29, of 336 Second street, Richmond, is being held in the city jail following her arrest in a downtown department store yesterday afternoon.

The woman was arrested on the complaint of George Bettger, manager of the store, who alleged she attempted to steal two house dresses and four colored candles.

She was taken into custody by Patrolman William Wurtman, who declares she had a bracelet, wrist watch, bead necklace, leather belt and porcelain dog in her shopping bag.

No complaint has yet been filed authorities holding her for investigation.

Rotarians To Hear Tinning

Functions of the district attorney's office at Martinez will be told members of the Richmond Rotary club at a meeting in the Hotel Carquinez today, by District Attorney A. B. Tinning.

Tinning's talk will be the first of a series of speeches by Contra Costa county officials and Aubrey Wilson will be chairman of the day.

ONE KILLED IN EXPLOSION

MARTINEZ, Aug. 14.—A premature blast of dynamite in the slag pit at the Mt. Copper smelter caused the death of Jess Bartholomew, 45, an employe of the Southern Pacific in this city, this afternoon at one o'clock. Bartholomew was decapitated, and his body was hurled 25 feet from the slag pile into the pit.

The explosion is believed to have been caused by neglect on the part of someone to disconnect the wires at the battery employed in blasting. When Bartholomew connected the wiring to the detonating cap the charge of explosive was touched off.

Carl Johnson, steam shovel operator, saw the body of Bartholomew hurtled into the air by the explosion.

The deceased leaves one daughter, Dixon. He came to this city many years ago.

YOUNG RALLY HELD IN CITY

Friends and supporters of Gov. C. C. Young gathered last night at the Hotel Carquinez to attend a Young rally. More than 150 persons attended the meeting which was arranged under the direction of T. H. DeLap ,local attorney, and a committee of local men.

Will C. Wood was the speaker of the evening. In a lengthy address, Wood lauded Governor Young for his work during his term in office, declaring that his administration is based on "humanity, efficiency and economy."

The speaker was introduced by T. M. Carlson, Richmond attorney, who made a brief and inspiring address.

The rally was opened by Dr. C. L. Abbott. Lud Johnson led the gathering in community singing.

Wood closed his address by stating the issue which he declared would determine the election is: "Do the people want to continue a clean, economic, humane government?"

Missing Woman Feared Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—UP—A woman's purse found today at the Cliff House here hinted at suicide of Mrs. Hattie Rivard, 22, missing from her home here. The purse was identified as belonging to Mrs. Rivard.

British Zep May Set New Speed Mark

ST. HUBERT AIRPORT, Que.—Aug. 14.—UP—The R-100 was hurrying along at record average speed tonight, more than one-third of the way across the Atlantic on the 3400 mile flight toward its home port at Cardington, Eng.

The huge dirigible had averaged nearly 70 miles an hour on the first phase of the return flight from Montreal and there were indications it would break the trans-Atlantic crossing record held by the German airship, Graf Zeppelin.

Officials at St. Hubert airport this evening published two messages telling of the R-100's progress.

The first message in the airport communique from the R-100 said: 1 p. m. EST., latitude 51.40 north longitude 52.30 east, course and speed made good. Making 55 knots. Altimeter, height 1800 feet. Air temperature 53 degrees. Weather fine and clear Stratus clouds on east horizon."

The second message, at 10:50 a. m. EST. said:

"Passing Belle Isle and Spaing course for home. On leaving the shores of Canada all on board wish to express their sincere gratitude for hospitality of the people of Canada."

The 3400 mile flight to Cardington may be made in a little over 50 hours if the R-100 can maintain the speed it has averaged since leaving St. Hubert airport at 8:30 p. m. EST last night.

It would break the Graf Zeppelin's time for an Atlantic crossing, the Graf having flown from Lakehurst, N. J., to Friedrischafen, Germany.

West Side To Organize Club

At a meeting in the Washington school tonight, the West Side Progressive association will be organized, according to an announcement by C. M. Patten, who is aiding in bringing about the organization.

According to Patten, the purpose of the organization will be to provide for the civic improvement of the West Side.

At the meeting ,to which all west side residents and property owners of the west side are invited, officers will be elected and plans laid.

WEATHER

Fair and mild today and tomorrow; but fog at night. Moderate west winds.

EXECUTION STAY GIVEN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—UP—The state appellate court today granted a stay of execution until September 8 to George Ryley, 21, who was to have been hanged tomorrow at San Quentin for the murder of George "Dad" Jones, Livermore taxi driver, last May.

John Gomez, sentenced with Ryley to hang tomorrow, will be executed as scheduled, the governor, to whom both men appealed for clemency, having stated today that he would not intervene.

The stay of execution was granted when attorneys for Ryley appealed and announced that they would seek a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that their client was unconstitutionally denied the right to waive a jury trial.

CRASH VICTIM RITES SATURDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Templeton, 58, who was killin Pinole Wednesday night when struck by a truck, will be held at the Pinole Methodist church at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with Rev. Carl Schmidt officiating. Interment will be in Sunset View cemetery, and arrangements are being handled by the Wilson and Kratzer funeral chapel.

An inquest into the death will be conducted by Coroner Aubrey Wilson in Pinole at 7:30 Monday night.

Mrs. Templeton, in company with her husband was returning from a prayer meeting at the Methodist church, when, according to witnesses, she stepped in front of the trailer of a truck driven by W. A. Matling of Bay Point. Matling was not held.

Moose Lodge Plans Picnic

Plans for the Alacosta legion picnic were continued at a meeting of the Richmond Moose lodge in the Moose hall last night.

E. B. Lowery, dictator, presided and urged all members of the Moose to give their support to the picnic ,which will be held Sept. 7 at the California park.

The affair will be open to members of the Moose, their families and friends.

ACCUSATION DENIED BY HURLEY

FOLSOM PRISON, Aug. 14.—UP—Warren K. Billings told a supreme court session here tonight that the only time he ever transported dynamite was in 1913 when he was hired to do so by State Senator Edgard S. Hurley, of Oakland.

Hurley then was prominent in California Union labor affairs.

The court hearing convening in the prison to hear Billings claim of innocence of the San Francisco bombing was electrified by the statement.

Statement Denied

It was the first time Hurley ever was mentioned in the controversy over the dynamiting which has raged since Mooney and Billings were convicted.

In San Francisco Hurley, attending the Eagles convention, denied the accusation.

Later Billings said that Hurley wa sleading an electrical workers strike and that he understood the dynamite was to be used in destroying electrical towers in San Francisco.

Held In 1913

Although the transporting of dynamite in 1913 was not connected with the crime for which Billings was convicted it is responsible for the present court hearing on Billings pardon application.

Billings was arrested in 1913 for illegal possession of dynamite, and served two years in prison.

Under cross examination by Associate Justice John W. Preston, Billings insisted that he knew very little about dynamite. In his trial in 1916 it was contended by the prosecution that he was an expert in high explosives.

LOCAL FIRM TO DO FORD WORK

Following its program of employing local men to do work on the new Ford plant on the Richmond inner harbor, the Clinton Construction company has ordered the V. G. Electric company of Richmond to do the temporary electric work at the local plant.

The local firm has a staff of five men at work at the plant, installing temporary electric fixtures.

The Alta Electric company of San Francisco was given the contract for the placing of the electric work at the plant when completed.

The Clinton company, the general contractors, however ordered the local company to do the temporary electrical work, as the V. G .company is more convenient to the plant.

The local company will install electric lights for night and emergency work and will install small motors at the plant.

This work will probably be carried on during the entire construction of the plant.

Population Of S. F. 637,212

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—UP—Population of San Francisco is 637,212, it was announced by the Census Bureau in Washington today.

The growth of the city was set at 25.8 percent.

The population of the entire state was set at 5,672,009, an increase of 65.5 percent.

VISITORS HERE

Friends from Albuquerque, New Mexico are being entertained this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Boyer, 615 Barrett avenue.

NEW PLANT HERE TO HIRE 600 MEN: TO BE STARTED SOON

Richmond is to have another new industry.

A new plant, that will cover 50 acres of land, and will employ 600 men is to be located here.

SITE ON ELLIS SLOUGH

The plant site will be in the inner harbor district, on lands that are now being filled in.

The plant will have frontage on the new Ellis slough channel which is now being dredged to a depth of 33 feet.

The name of the new factory, or its nature could not be learned last night.

STOREY MAKES STATEMENT

The announcement of the new plant here followed a statement made by W. B. Storey, president of the Santa Fe railroad, who is now in San Francisco.

Storey announced yesterday morning that improvements of $2,000,000 will be made by his railroad in the bay district during the year.

NEGOTIATIONS ARE FINISHED

Officials of the Santa Fe said yesterday that while negotiations had been completed for the Richmond factory the other party to the contract does not wish to announce details at this time.

Storey, in his statement to the press, declared that the projects planned by his line have been carefully worked out.

BAY REGION IS LAUDED

"They should demonstrate," he said, "the confidence felt by the Santa Fe in the future industrial development of the San Francisco bay region. Industrial possibilities here are unlimited. We want to be in a position to handle the business and give new plants adequate sites at the point where rail and ship meet."

Other developments planned by the Santa Fe includes the construction of interconnection tracks between the Santa Fe and Western Pacific and a line of service tracks to reach Oakland.

ELLIS SLOUGH DREDGING STARTED

Rumors have been rife in Richmond for some time that some new gigantic industry would locate on the Santa Fe lands here.

A short time ago work was started on the dredging of the Ellis Slough project—a plan that will throw open valuable industrial lands and will provide an adequate shipping channel and turning basin ready for ocean-going ships to enter.

FINISHED IN YEAR

This project will be finished within a year, according to engineers in charge of the dredging.

This would mean that early in 1931, Richmond will have its new industry.

USE RICHMOND TERMINAL

Storey, in his statement, denied that the Santa Fe will enter San Francisco via Western Pacific tracks.

The line, he said, will continue to use the Richmond terminal.

Kidnaped Girl Found, Man Held

SAN JOSE, Aug. 14.—John Del Maestro, 25, of 78 Devine street, is being held on an open charge following the discovery in his home today of Ellen Harwood, 18 year old stenographer, who was reported as kidnaped last night.

The girl is in a state of collapse at the Emergency hospital, and her face is cut and bruised as a result of a beating that she charges she suffered at the hands of Del Maestro.

According to Miss Harwood's story ,she was dragged from her home into a car about eleven o'clock last night by Maestro, and beaten. She was then taken to Maestro's home.

The parents of the girl stated that the two had been acquainted for some time.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Application for a marriage license was made in Martinez yesterday by Andrew Giroldi, 24, of Crockett and Violet F. Green, 18, of 2077 Gaynor avenue.

Three Arrested On Rum Charges

NEWMAN, Aug. 14.—When a squadron of dry agents raided Newman today, three alleged big time bootleggers were arrested.

At the Commercial hotel, Jack McCormick was arrested and taken to Federal prison at Sacramento.

Dan Rielly, proprietor of a soft drink place, was the second man taken in the raid.

The third man was N. A. Clark, of the El Dorado rooming house.

Scout Board To Meet August 22

A special board of review will be held in the Lincoln school Aug. 22 by the Richmond district Boy Scout Court of Honor, in order to review the tests Scouts have passed in summer camp. The monthly board of review will be held Sept. 5, and the regular meeting date of the board has been set for the first Friday of every month.

Sept. 19 court of honor will be held at Alvarado park.

LIPTON YACHT ARRIVES IN AMERICA

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 14.—UP—Lost from her convoy for days at a time on the storm-tossed Atlantic, beating up against adverse winds and riding out gales which would have taxed the seaworthiness of far staunches craft, the slender racing yacht Shamrock V, challenger for the America's Cup, weathered a difficult 4200 mile voyage and today was laid alongside a Thames river pier and stripped of her now superfluous ocean-going gear.

To look at the graceful green challenger one would never imagine that she had been nearly a month on an ocean voyage, save for salt flecks where the seas had poured over her narrow, neatly trimmed decks. Below decks, where her commander, Captain Ted Heard, her navigator, William Paul, and the crew of 20 lived during those difficult days, Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht, upon arrival at New London late yesterday, was as neat as the proverbial new pin.

Nor from the men who sailed her could any of the hardships, possible perils, of her voyage from England, be adequately gleaned, for these weather-beaten monosyllable sailormen took it as all part of a day's work.

Colonel Duncan Neill, a veteran among distinguished British seamen, made the voyage in command of the three-masted power yacht, Erin, as Sir Thomas Lipton's personal representative. The Erin acted as a convoy for the Shamrock V.

The night of the day on which the Shamrock set sail was a "dusty" one during which darkness and storm shut down like a curtain between the little 120-foot yacht and her convoy, Colonel Neill said.

Three days passed, with those aboard the Erin ignorant of the Shamrock's whereabouts, and those aboard the Shamrock battling night and day through the storm, their sail trimmed at times to that carried by the diminutive mizzen mast aft, their single plank mahogany shell tossed at the mercy of the winds.

"Aye, it was a bad bit, that," admitted Captain Heard.

But the Shamrock found her convoy again at the Azores, and together once more they set out westward across the Atlantic.

At one time the mate of the racing yacht was taken ill, and in the narrow quarters below decks there was no chance to treat him properly.

So followed one of those thrilling phases of sea life, a transfer at sea, the mate being taken aboard the Erin for medical treatment and later restored to his place on the Shamrock V.

Forced from her course, driven far to the southward, the challenger had to cover many more miles than steamships do between the Azores and New York.

"At times," said Colonel Duncan, "we weren't heading towards New London at all, but way off to the southwest."

Twice severe gales tossed the slender Shamrock V about like a cork. All sail was furled, save the little jigger, but this wisp of a boat, less than 20 feet of beam, with her 100-foot mainmast and delicate hull, proved as seaworthy as the best.

BARREL HOUSE WINS S. O. TITLE

The Standard Oil league season of 1930 ended yesterday afternoon with the Barrel House once more triumphantly perched on the top of the pile.

The Barrel House yesterday brought the league to an end by shutting out the Mechanics by a score of 1 to 0.

The final game was played in exactly one hour, the quickest time of the entire season. Hot ones handled nimbly and several double plays brought the fast contest to an abrupt conclusion.

The lone scoring of the game was made in a whirl-wind third inning. Tony Cola, center fielder, started things popping by tapping out a two bagger. Larry Gillan then joined in with the spirit of the inning, and nabbed Kersten's curve for a pretty single, sending Cola in for the only score of the game.

Plenty of stellar fielding was performed by both the Barrel House boys and the Mechanics yesterday to the joy of the fans who turned out to give one last gaze at the athletes whom they had observed during the present season.

Probably the most sizzling of the six and a half torrid innings played yesterday afternoon was the sixth. Goldsworthy of the Mechanics was disposed off by Matteri and Moitoza. Pat O'Rourke walked. Soby then presented Tony Cola with a sensational catch, and Harry Bonham went out, Arty Schimpff to Moitoza.

With the Mechanics successfully disposed off, the Barrel House came in toward the bench all prepared for their long-delayed hitting festival. But they were not to enjoy this delicacy. Artie Schimpff, Sonny Vianni, and Fitzgerald all connected with the agate on the first toss delivered by Kersten, and all three failed to reach first before the startled gaze of the record crowd.

The Barrel House athletes are now in possession of the title of the 1930 Standard Oil diamond league.

Refinery and All-Standards are tied for second place, while the Mechanics bring up the rear.

The Standard Oil circuit, which was revived this year, after a lapse of several seasons, has proven to be probably the fastest twilight loop in the whole eastbay.

The present standing of the league teams is as follows:

	W.	L.	T.
Barrel House	10	3	1
Refinery	7	6	2
All Standards	7	6	1
Mechanics	3	12	0

TOD MORGAN WINS BATTLE

SEATTLE, Aug. 14.—UP— Tod Morgan, former junior lightweight champion of the world won an easy six round decision from Wildcat Carter, Negro here tonight.

For the full six rounds, Morgan danced around the negro and gave him a boxing lesson, landing almost at will with either hand. The negro was unable to land many solid punches, always shooting at a target that was just fading out of reach. Morgan won every round.

Morgan weighed in at 136 1-2 and Carter tipped the beam at 137 1-2.

Handling of X-Ray Films to be Probed

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—UP—The grand jury moved today to investigate the handling of X-ray film in San Francisco. John P. Murray, foreman, announced this action was taken because of the midnight blaze here several months ago in which many lives were imperiled.

Pup Litter Is Born In Pound

TOPEKA, Kas.—UP—Being born into captivity is a tough break, but being born in a big city dog pond is a tougher break.

Such was the misfortune of seven collie pups. Their mother probably hasn't told them she is a victim of Guy Robbins, city dog-catcher here, and was picked up as a stray dog.

Robbins believes there isn't any use of going out to catch dogs when he can get them that easily, but Ed Stoll, in charge of the dog pond had to inform him that is was the department's business to dispose of the dogs and not to raise more.

"The pups, if no one happens to want them, or if the owner doesn't show up to claim his dog and her pups they are just gone goslins" Stoll said.

Police Called To Perform New Duty

NEW BERN, N. C.—UP—Local police officers have added a new duty to their daily routine. A hurry-up call sent three policemen to a home on the outskirts of the city. They found an irate father who informed them they were summoned to make his stubborn son take a dose of medicine. The boy took it.

TEACHER HELD ON COIN CHARGE

AMARILLO, Tex., Aug. 14.—UP—Eugene J. Wood, attorney and school teacher of Pampa, Tex., was held in the Potter county jail here tonight under $5000 bond following his arrest and arraignment before a United States commissioner on charges of counterfeiting coins and raising one dollar bills to five dollar notes.

Wood's arrest followed weeks of investigation by a federal agent, who charged that Woods, a prominent churchman, passed spurious bills in both Fort Worth and Dallas.

Wood's arrest was the fourth on charges of counterfeiting in this d'strict in less than a week.

Coroner Rejects Clipping Service

RICHMOND, Va. — UP — Dr. James M. Whitfield, Richmond coroner, is a poor prospect for clipping services. He declared he could see his name in the home town newspapers free of charge.

Traffic At Legion Meet Is Problem

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 14.—Anxious to keep traffic accidents at a minimum in and around Sacramento during the coming state convention of the American Legion, August 18, 19, and 20, H. R. Youngblood, assistant superintendent of the California Highway Patrol today ordered approximately sixty officers from nearby counties to report in the capital city for duty during the period.

With every highway congested with traffic bringing the Legionnaires to the city from all parts of the state, the men will be ordered to patrol all roads leading into the city as well as assist the local police in handling traffic within the city limits.

Patrol officers will assist in clearing the streets for the big parade on Monday August 18 in which it is anticipated more than 2,000 Legionnaires will take part.

Youngblood's order is part of the general plan approved by Governor C. C. Young to shift the officers from one part of the state to another during emergencies involving extraordinary heavy traffic and consequent hazard.

Rangers Ad Deer Roundup

YOSEMITE.—After all, the life of the much romanticized cowboy might have been worse, according to a party of rangers here. The rangers came to that conclusion after rounding up a herd of 50 deer for re-stocking the Hetch-Hetchy district of this park.

The rangers, generally conceded to be somewhat more hardy than the average citizen ,admitted individually and collectively that rounding up the deer had been one of the toughest assignments ever given them.

Deer in the Hetch-Hetchy district were nearly exterminated when they were slaughtered during the foot-and-mouth epidemic in California in 1926. More than 450 deer still remain in Yosemite valley after the shipment to the other section of the park. They graze in herds of 20 to 30 over the valley meadows.

False Teeth Blamed By Sentenced Man

PUEBLO, Colo.—Frank Bowman blamed his false teeth when he received a two year sentence for possessing counterfeit coins. "My false teeth kept dropping down and I couldn't talk plain to the judge," he said. "First thing I knew, he'd done sentenced me."

46 TRAPPED IN NORTH MINE

PRINCETON, B. C. Aug. 14.—UP—A great mass of rock tonight confronted rescue crews striving almost without hope to reach 46 miners who remained entombed in the gas-filled No. 4 mine of the Sou'mont Collieries at Blakeburn, B. C.

Already three men had been brought out. Two of them were dead. The third may live. The two known dead were Alexander Smith, 42, main hoistman, who had been employed in the mine years, and Albert Cole, 19, three years a hoistman.

The catastrophe was the worst that has struck the Similkameen and ranks among the most tragic in the history of mining in western Canada. Deadly carbon-monoxide gas was pouring from the depths of the lower workings and thwarting the rescue efforts to a point where progress was almost impossible.

Rescue workers have been brought out in a state of exhaustion and there have been at least two near fatalities. The 49 men trapped were among the most respected citizens of Blakeburn and their friends refuse to allow any handicap to halt the work of mercy no matter how small the hope.

"Miracles may happen, but I wouldn't give much for the chances to bring out any of the 46 men alive," said John Seaman, foreman.

Hundred of tons of debris choked the shaft. Rescue leaders believed that unless the shaft is cleared within 24 or 36 hours even slight hope will be gone. The work may require a week.

There are 6000 feet of old workings. The air there may supply the prisoners for a short time if the gas is not too strong. The main shaft, blocked by rocks and earth only 300 feet from the outlet, runs 3000 feet into the mountain. Beyond are thousands of feet of slopes and chambers.

PAINFUL CORNS
Loosen—Lift Out
A little known Japanese herb, the discovery of an eminent German scientist (Dr. Stickel) instantly soothes the corn, callous or wart, then loosens it so that shortly you can lift it right out. This new discovery called "Corn Fly" excites the white blood corpuscles to action and granulates the corn at its root so that it drops out and leaves no trace of scar or soreness.
You will also find "Corn Fly Foot Bath Powder" a boon for sore, tired or perspiring feet.
"Corn Fly" for corns, 35c, "Corn Fly Foot Bath Powder" 25c, and "Corn Fly Bunion Remedy" 50c, (all three—$1.10 value—for $1.00), are sold under a positive money-back guarantee by Hi-Gene Co., Newark, N. J., or local druggist.

Like Knights of Old

YE OLDE KNIGHTS used to fight to protect the fair fame of the devices emblazoned on their shields. And the knight without escutcheon was looked upon askance. He had no name to protect. He could live fairly or unfairly, as his whims directed.

Modern knights of industry have devices—the advertised trade-marks of their products. They must safeguard the reputation of these trade-marks to keep them worth while.

Advertising throws a powerful light on a trade-mark. If it proves worthy, it gains popularity and confidence. If it is shown to be unworthy, it quickly fails.

Joyous Foot Bath Then Lift Out CORNS

Root and All—Out To Stay!

Two tablespoonfuls of that amazingly refreshing and foot invigorating Radox to one gallon of water makes a footbath which after 3 or 4 night's soaking lifts out aching maddening corns, callouses, too—root and all.

Radox softens the hard outer layers of corn—and oxygen which Radox liberates, enters the pores, each night penetrating further and further, carrying the salts right to root of corn which can be lifted out bodily.

Wonderful to take out pain and burning and refresh tired feet!

Get a package of Radox at La Moine Drug Co., Conn Drug Co. or any drugstore and know the joyous comfort of corn and callous free feet—Radox is the modern, scientific method to remove corns which completely eliminates old fashioned plasters, dangerous cutting, skin destroying acids and obsolete methods.

BIG HOUSE IS STUDY OF PRISONS

Prison, its grim brutalities, its riots, its thrills and its heartbreaks, are shown with stark realism and utter fidelity in "The Big House," Metro Goldwyn Mayer's drama of penitentiary revolt, playing at the Fox-California theater.

It bares underlying causes of prison riots, shows one in which a thousand men participate, and follows through three prisoners, one a gangster, one a forger, who finds redemption in the melee, one a new offender whose soul is wrecked by association with hardened criminals.

Chester Morris, Wallace Beery and Robert Montgomery play these central characters, about whom the story revolves and give splendid characterizations. The love interest is between Morris as the forger and Leila Hyams, and the friendship of Morris and Beery who plays a vicious killer, is vividly worked out.

George Hill, distinguished for "The Flying Fleet" and "Tell It to the Marines," directed the new picture, an original by Frances Marion. Other notable players in the cast are Lewis Stone, Karl Dane, George Marion, DeWitt Jennings, Mathew Betz, Claire McDowell, J. C. Nugent and Robert Emmett O'Connor.

Actual machine gun fire was recorded for the first time by a new discovery. The jail yard riot, with a thousand men scattering under gun fire, the thrilling riot in the mess hall, and the dramatic end of revolt, are shown on a huge scale. The intimate touches were directed with deft skill by Hill. The dialogue is especially forceful and realistic, with its prison jargon and criminal argot giving it a vivid actuality.

THRILLING NEW TALKIE COMING TO FOX

Care in selecting the cast of "Alias French Gertie," Bebe Daniels' third Radio starring film opening tomorrow at the Fox-California theater did not end with the principal players. All the bits in the picture are played by well-known stage and screen artists.

For instance, Charles K. French with thirty years' stage experience, appears in two important talking scenes.

Arthur Housman and Harry Tenbrook, who have enacted "tough" characters in scores of crook stories, make several appearances.

Adele Watons, connected with motion pictures for twelve years, is a secretary in one scene.

Among those in principal parts are Ben Lyon, husband of Bebe Daniels who plays opposite her, John Ince, Betty Pierce, Robert Emmett O'Connor and Daisy Belmore.

"Alias French Gertie" a crook romance adapted from "The Chatterbox" successful stage play by Bayard Veiller was directed by George Aghainbaud.

Seals Beaten By Portland Ducks, 5 to 3

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—UP—Going into the ninth inning one run behind, the Portland Beavers scored three runs and defeated the Seals here today, 5 to 3.

Turpin started for the Seals, giving way to Perry who finished the game for the locals.

Walter went the whole route for the Beavers, and with the exception of the first inning, kept the Seals in check throughout.

Stars Again Defeat Tribe In South Game

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 14.—UP—The Hollywood Stars won their third straight victory over the Seattle Indians before a crowd of more than 12,000 here tonight with a 13 to 6 score.

Jim Turner, pitching for Hollywood performed throughout the game for his team and the only inning he was unable to fool consistently was Owen, former Santa Clara collegian, who poled four straight hits.

Hollywood was trailing, 3 to 1 in the fourth inning when they drove House from the Seattle mound and collected 8 runs from Kunz in that canto. Micky Heath drove over three of the eight runners in the fourth with a home run clout into the bleachers.

VET REPORTED KILLED IS ALIVE

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 14.—UP—So far as the relatives of William M. Swart, 62, are concernod, the dead come to life again on this earth.

Swart, who was reported dead in two foreign wars, was united here with his son, E. B. Swart, 38, of Carol, Ia., after 34 intervening years. He was not wounded in either war.

Swart separated from his family in 1896 and saw service in the Philippines during the Spanish American war with Co. I, 14th regulars, 8th army corps. It was while campaigning in Manila that he first was reported killed in action.

When the United States entered the World War he was living on his homestead in Ferry county, Wash. He joined the 33rd engineers, Co. C, and later was transferred to Co. F. He again was reported "killed in action" and someone at home jumped his claim.

His son located him through the veterans bureau. A speaker appeared in Carol, Ia., and his subject was the Spanish-American war and its veterans. The son appealed to the speaker for news of his father and he was located recently when the pair corresponded for the first time in their lives.

Swart is drawing $91.35 monthly as a result of an attack of influenza in Brest, France, that impaired eyesight. He is rated permanently and totally disabled.

Aged Chinaman Resents Cameramen

LOS BANOS, Cal.—UP—A 116-year-old Chinaman named McCarthy rushed with a menacing long knife at a group of cameramen near here.

The aged Chinese was considered as "news," hence the visit. McCarthy did not share the opinion, however, and after hiding in a barn for two hours finally attempted to drive the men away with his stiletto.

He was successful.

NEW DEVICE AIDS DEAF

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—UP—Amplified, though not distorted, by the magic of radio, the human voice has been heard by deaf persons in a recent experiment.

A radio ear, telephone radio attachment, has been installed in the quarters of the San Francisco League of Hard Hearing.

The teacher stands near the ear, which resembles an ordinary microphone, and speaks in an ordinary tone of voice. Her voice is heard perfectly through earphones by her listeners.

Many of the deaf, who never have learned actually to hear, but have read lips all their lives, go wide-eyed with astonishment as the sounds filter through. In many cases they were as helpless as persons hearing a strange language for the first time.

In all cases, however, it is expected that long familiarity with English as written and with consonants—the predominant 'sounds' of lip-talking, will help the members to an early familiarity with spoken English.

An ambitious program of lectures, concerts and dramatics is being planned.

TIME FLIERS CONTINUE FLIGHT

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 14.—UP—Two weary young aviators, pushed the world's endurance flight record close to the 600 mark tonight, keeping up their courage the while with wisecracks about how little they were suffering.

"We won't be down 'till frost," Forrest O'Brine, declared.

O'Brine and Dale Jackson ,slightly more serious minded exceeded the former world's record by a full day at 8:43 a. m. today. For this 24 hours and any more they remain aloft until 70 hours, they receive $100 an hour from an oil company, their only pay so far for the flight.

They completed their 585th hour in the air at 4:11 p. m. Thursday.

"What is the biggest thing in your minds now, outside the record," the United Press asked the fliers in a later message.

Wants Bath

"A real bath in a bathtub. A lot of honest to goodness soap, and a big Turkish towel," was the answer.

"We are feeling fine," the note continued, "and sure we will reach the 1000 hour mark which we set as our goal when we passed the old record. The little old Challenger motor is going perfectly. Maybe just a little better than that."

The biggest crowd since the beginning of the flight assembled during the late afternoon. The grounds around the airport were strewn with tons of paper thrown out by campers. A thousand or more persons remained over night to be 'in' on the finish, whenever that is.

Close To Field

A fireworks display featured the evenings' celebration. "Red" and "Obie" helped by dropping green flares from their plane after dark.

The orange and yellow monoplane has covered more than 50,000 miles since it went up, it is estimated, nearly far enough to circle the world three times at this altitude.

The plane was kept closer to the field than it had been earlier in the week, because to have their record officially recognized the flyers must land where they took off.

FIVE MEN DIE IN GANG WAR

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—UP—Five more murders were added tonight to the crimson record of gang warfare over the big profits of liquor, vice and gambling.

Leaving the Chicago Loop where so many bloody battles have been staged in the past, the war was carried again into northern resorts and Chicago suburbs where the "big shots" of the metropolitan underworld buy summer entertainment with characteristic disregard for expense.

Here in brief are the latest reports from the three new battle fronts:

1. On a lonely road near White Bear lake in Minnesota early Thursday morning W. F. Rhinow, major-general in the Minnesota bureau of criminal investigation, came upon a bullet-torn automobile and three bodies.

The bodies bearing the marks of close range revolver and machine gun fire, were identified as those of Sammy Stein, Kansas City gunman who was wanted as the man who killed a patrolman in Kansas City during the Republican national convention in 1928. A murder for which three other men recently were hanged; Frank Coleman, another Kansas City gangster, and "Butch" Myers, St. Paul bootlegger and gunman.

2. In Niles center, a Chicago suburb, Danny Vallo's enemies caught up with him and killed him with shotguns as he stepped from his automobile in front of a cafe with Miss Vera Wallace, his 24-year old companion. Danny was suspected as one of the hoodlums who engineered the St. Valentines' Day massacre of seven "Bugs" Moran gangsters here in 1929.

3. At about the same time Detroit was having its fifteenth gang killing in three months. Two automobiles drove alongside each other. A man leaned out of one of the cars and began firing at the driver of the other. Cigero Mangiacani. The latter tried to leap from his car but fell dead over the top of the door as his machine crashed into a parked car and stopped. The killer escaped.

Man, Nature Fight Borers

MISSOULA, Mont.— UP —With one-fifth of a stand of 30,000,000 feet of white pine in the Flathead forest infested with the dreaded pine beetle, government authorities and nature's helpful allies are waging against the forest blight.

Woodpeckers are feasting royally on multitudes of the beetles. Heavy rains have hastened tree growth and hence induced stronger resistive powers. If a tree is healthy and the sap flows abundantly, the beetle usually will be drowned after burrowing through the bark. It is the weak tree with a barely perceptible flow of sap that is easy prey for the destructive insects.

Human control operations include spotting of infested trees fell, stripping off the bark, laying the bark along the naked tree trunk and burning it.

PANAMA CANAL OPENING DAY OBSERVED

Everett Cohen, chairman of the Americanization committee of the Richmond Post of the American Legion, announced last night that today is the sixteenth anniversary of the opening of the Panama canal.

Cohen, in accordance with a policy of the committee to put before the public an universities of historic dates, is making similar announcements at various times.

In 1903 the United States attempted to make a treaty with Columbia whereby the former should have the privilege of the construction of the Panama canal. In August of that year the senate of Columbia rejected the treaty and the representatives from Panama withdrew, refusing to maintain political relations with the government of Columbia any longer, feeling that the future interests of Panama were imperiled.

In November 1903, Panama declared itself an independent republic, the United States immediately recognizing the government and later concluding a treaty with Panama for the construction of the canal.

For this concession the United States paid the Republic of Panama $10,000,000 immediately, and bound itself to a perpetual yearly payment of $250,000 beginning in 1913.

The canal was virtually completed in 1914, the first ship passing through on Aug. 3, although the official opening did not take place until Aug. 15. The total cost of the canal exceeded the $37,000,000 originally set aside for the purpose.

Quentin Prisoners In Knife Fight

Here's A Red Hot Tip For Men With Big Waistlines

Safe Way To Get Rid of Surplus Fat And At the Same Time Gain In Vigor Energy and Mental Activity — Feel Younger.

New York Man Tells Concise Story To Fat Men

Yes, Gentlemen: Writes W. R. Daniels of Richmond Hill—"I have finished my second bottle of Kruschen Salts and have obtained the following results:"

1—"I have removed 3 inches from the belt line.

2—"Get up in the morning feeling 100 per cent.

3—"I am 25% more active.

4—"My mind is clearer.

5—"My wind has improved 25%.

6—"All skin eruptions have disappeared.

7—"My face and lips have color.

8—"When I go to bed I am motionless—sleep like a brick.

9—"Am 46 years old and feel 20 years younger."

Millions of men the world over are taking the little daily dose of Kruschen because they know that it keeps them everlastingly feeling fit and active—life really becomes a glorious adventure—well worth living.

Don't confuse Kruschen with the ordinary salts that are made for just one purpose (to act on the bowels).

Keep everlastingly before you the fact that Kruschen contains the six vital rejuvenating salts that nature put into the human body at the beginning of creation and these 6 minerals your body must have or you could not live.

How would you like to get your weight down to normal and at the same time develop that urge for activity that makes work a pleasure and also gain in ambition and keenness of mind?

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh—then get an 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts which will last you for 4 weeks. Take one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning—cut down on sweets for a while—take the exercises which Kruschen will induce—persist in this method every morning of your life and when you have finished the contents of this first bottle weigh yourself again.

Now you can laugh at the people who pay hundreds of dollars to lose a few pounds of fat—now you will know the pleasant way to lose unsightly fat and you'll also know that the 6 vitalizing salts of Kruschen (Salts that your blood, nerves and glands must have to function properly)—have presented you with glorious health.

After that you'll want to walk around and say to your friends,—"One 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts is worth one hundreds dollars of any fat person's money."

Leading druggists all over the world sell Kruschen Salts—you can always get it at LaMoine Drug Co., who sells dozens of packages every week.

Leavitt Estate Goes to Widow

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—UP—Belief that the will of J. W. Leavitt, automobile dealer who killed his partner and then suicided, would reveal a motive for the action, was abandoned today when the contents of the will were revealed. Leavitt left his entire estate, totaling $300,000, to his wife, Mrs. Nell Leavitt.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Timmons of Mount avenue are enjoying a visit from their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Poplin of Fillmore, Calif., with their two children, Bobby and Ramona.

DRIVERS TOLD TO GIVE ALL SIGNALS

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 14.—Give the left turn signal if about to pass another car.

This is the advice given motorists today by the California highway patrol as the result of numerous accidents resulting in crowded traffic when two or more cars attempt to pass another at the same time.

Frequently, it was stated, accidents of this character could have been avoided had the driver nearest the car to be passed given the left turn signal to the cars behind him.

"If two or more drivers in a line of traffic take a notion to pass a car at the same time there is likely to be trouble," said the patrol bulletin.

"It is the duty of the driver about to turn to give the left turn signal. This warns drivers behind to stay back until he has passed.

Many deaths and numerous serious accidents have occurred in California in recent months because of such situations."

Teachers Win In Vacation Pay Suit

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—UP—A suit for $700,000 filed by San Francisco teachers was won from the city today in the state supreme court, when that body denied the city a rehearing on the case. The suit was for beginning teachers' vacation salary.

THE WOMAN OF IT

What Other Girls Can Learn From Gertrude Ederle

"I'D LIKE TO give all the youngsters a chance to swim," stoutly declares Gertrude Ederle, the first woman to swim the English Channel and the victor over all previous records established by men. Now a swimming instructor at Rye, N. Y., Miss Ederle, good sportswoman that she is, has taken pains to disclaim the somewhat self-pitying role in which she was presented to newspaper readers early this week.

MARGUERITE MOOERS MARSHALL

She denies that her deafness was caused by her record-breaking fourteen hours in the Channel. Her hearing always has been faulty, she says, but it has improved continually since she ended the nervous strain of vaudeville appearances; and there is no more danger of complete deafness, according to the doctors. With her plucky, friendly grin, she insists that she is enjoying life as a swimming teacher and she hopes to have a pool of her own, where she can teach youngsters to swim properly and turn out other champions.

Here, it seems to us, is the Trudy Ederle whom we first met in her little beach bungalow at Highlands, N. J., the day after the sturdy fifteen-year-old had won the women's international long distance swimming race, beating many feminine veterans in the sport.

She was then the simplest, most delightfully wholesome youngster, who wore an old black bathing suit as she worked busily at the family ironing board and kept an eye on her two-and-a-half-year-old brother Henry. She giggled like any schoolgirl over her victory, especially as it involved outdistancing her older sister, as well as certain serious fellow members of the Women's Swimming Association who had striven in vain, according to Trudy, to make her train and practice.

WHAT other girls can learn from Gertrude Ederle is not, necessarily, to swim the English Channel, but the thing she stresses now, as she stressed it during our first interview—the ability to take care of themselves in the water. She longs today "to give all the youngsters a chance to swim." She told us earnestly several years ago:

"Every child, boy or girl, ought to learn to swim just as naturally, and about as soon, as he or she learns to walk. You're never afraid of the water if you go into it early enough and learn to be at home in it. I don't know what fear is when I'm swimming. I've never had the slightest accident or unpleasant experience.

"If every child were taught to swim we should never have these horrible drowning accidents of which the papers are full every summer. They are so tragic and they could be prevented so easily.

"I guess I swim as easily as I breathe or walk," she finished, with her wide, disarming smile. "And I truly think it ought to be just as natural for everybody. The scientists say we were all water animals to begin with; then why shouldn't we all go back, now and then, to our first home—the ocean?"

Why not, indeed? There is much talk nowadays about the necessity of being air-minded. Being water-minded seems to us at least as useful—to say nothing of joyful. Few girls and women can afford planes, or even afford often to ride in them. But who can't afford a swim in the cobalt blue ocean that curves in crashing, shining lines along the very shores of New York City—a swim under a sky of turquoise flooded with sunlight and swept by white gulls tirelessly winged?

BOYS have always more or less learned to swim, but only the last generation or so of girls has had anything like an equal opportunity. It should be given to them, both for their safety and for their pleasure. Most useful, we think, is such an organization as the Women's Swimming Association of New York, which in its first ten years of existence taught more than 10,000 girls and women to swim, and which has greatly increased the scope of its work since moving into its new building and pool at No. 204 East Seventy-seventh Street.

Girls learn swimming, too, at school and college and camp; sensible parents consider that swimming lessons are as important as lessons in algebra or French or dancing. As a matter of fact, we doubt if a girl's life were ever saved by her knowledge of any of the last-mentioned three subjects. Knowing how to swim, on the other hand, has saved many a life while canoeing, sailing, or even crossing the Atlantic.

It's a simple, sensible form of insurance—and it's such fun! The rhythm of a good stroke is as delightful as the rhythm of the dance. The cool shock of lake or ocean sets blood tingling with exhilaration. The esthetic value of swimming down a moon-path of black-and-gold, or of diving through green-lined surf and coming up to take a shower of rainbowed foam blown back from the wave-crest, is an experience which the girl or woman with any feeling for beauty never can forget.

Yes, like Gertrude Ederle—and especially when overhanding through our private piece of blue-and-gold morning ocean—we would give all the youngsters, girls included, a chance to swim!

THE HOMEMAKER OF IT

Jim must have another suit for business
Sonny needs a coat to keep him warm;
I'd like a new dress, but I'll do without, I guess,
My old one can be worn without much harm.

Sister needs some brand new underclothing,
Sonny's has been worn until it's thin;
I'd like a new dress, but I'll do without, I guess,
Wearing shabby things is not a sin!

All the beds at home require new blankets,
The dishes that we use are a disgrace;
I'd like a new dress, but I'll do without, I guess,
After all, a mother knows her place!

THINK IT OVER

By Alfalfa Smith

"I TOLD you so!"

Have you ever heard this expression? Do you know that the person who says it has contributed towards what has happened by THINKING it would happen?

If you must think about a person, do not think anything which may cause you to say: "I told you so!" You really are not a wonderful prophet, for you helped create the disaster.

To give you an example, the "hard times" of to-day are the result of "I TOLD YOU SO!"

Watch your thinking.

A DISH A DAY

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930.

The housewife who does things in the same old way day after day, because that is the way she learned to do them, or because her family has always seemed satisfied with the provender she put before them, robs herself of the spirit of adventure that should lurk in every kitchen. Furthermore, she deprives her family of many delightful surprises.

KAREN HOLLIS

Cooking can easily fall into the class of dull routine jobs, or it can be made a fascinating pastime, all depending on the extent to which you are open-minded about trying out new ideas.

Now I am not going to advocate any strange combination of foods, or lead you into any long and involved processes of cooking. I am merely going to introduce to you a foundation dessert that until a few days ago was news to me, and may be unknown to you. It is absurdly simple and a boon to the kitchenette or camp cook, and it tastes infinitely better than it sounds. I lay no claim to being the discoverer of this process: it was devised in the experimental kitchens of one of our biggest dairy product companies.

The basis of this dessert is caramelized condensed milk, and to prepare this you place cans of sweetened, condensed milk in boiling water and keep them at the boiling point for three hours, making sure that the water is always above the level of the top of the can. After this thorough cooking, and after the cans have been cooled the contents are thick, like custard, and have a delicious caramel flavor. You can cut this creamy substance in slices and serve it garnished with nuts, or use it as the foundation of many delicious, frozen desserts. Here is one suggestion:

MAGIC CARAMEL PUDDING

½ pint heavy cream, whipped
1 1-3 cups (1 can) sweetened, condensed milk, caramelized
½ cup maraschino cherries
½ cup walnut meats.

Into the whipped cream stir the caramelized milk until it is thoroughly blended. A fork or an egg beater may be used. Chop the cherries and nuts and fold them in the cream mixture. Put in mechanical refrigerator for eight hours, or pack in airtight container in ice and salt for six hours. Unmould, slice and serve.

Fur Coats Are Mere Featherweights

By Ann Roberts

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

LAPIN SPORT COAT, WIT. FLARE COLLAR, CLASSIC FOR FOOTBALL GAMES, ETC.

COAT OF ERMINE GILLS, MADE IN THE LONDON TOP COAT MANNER.

SHAVED WHITE LAPIN, WORN WITH A BLACK DRESS AND BLACK ACCESSORIES.

FEATHERWEIGHTS—but champions just the same—these are the new fur coats. The skins that go to make them up are shaved and sheared and manipulated to such an extent that the appearance is that of some ultra well woven, thoroughly pliable fabric. So they are called, in many instances, fabric furs.

No longer will the football games produce a hoard of fuzzy raccoons to start smart fur sport fashions for the season. To-day the sporty ones are quite differently dressed in thus and such manner about to be herein fully described.

Lapin is stronger than ever and the beauty of it is that it can be done in such really fascinating colors, for it takes quite naturally to the dye pot. In all the beige tones, particularly the pinky beige, this fur is very good and it makes the most interesting of sport coats.

The newer lapins are sheared so that their surfaces are soft and silky. These have lost the beaver look and gone in for a quite new appearance. And contrary to quickly formed judgments, they wear surprisingly well. Beavers and the beaver sort of lapins are still excellent style—more coats than ever will be made of these skins.

Sheared baby leopard is another highlight, with the young one's spots showing only faintly in a sort of shadowy pattern.

I hear a cry raised when women first see these new lightweight coats in fur—"They will not be warm enough," it goes—or something like that. But the fact is that the true warmth of fur lies in the leather side of the skin which air cannot penetrate with nearly the ease it experiences with wool alone.

Linings Are Notable

THEN these coats are made notable by their linings, which are just as characteristic of the new styles as are the furs themselves. Oftener than not the lining is of a tweedy fabric—perhaps a Rodier cloth beautifully woven, with a border that appears along the front facings and again on the ends of the scarf that is attached to the coat and ties under the chin stiffly in Ascot fashion. This is something the way it goes: A tan fur coat, rust colored lining of tweed and a dress to match. Or the same idea carried out with bright green.

There was a time when upon viewing the fur-clad population of America on a winter day, you could be excused from believing that all animals grew either brown or black coats. And some people don't like these wearable, often too practical, colors. Now you can find a fur that is becoming, and the lighter tones are so smart that the problem will be which one to choose.

A new variety of fur for these daytime coats is called ermine gill, which means that the bellies of the little animals are pieced and sewed together to make a fur that looks entirely new—a light and a dark brown flecked appearance. There are Fisher gills and mink gills being in two tones of brown.

Look to the Line

NOW for the cuts of these coats—they are as new as the furs themselves. One is made on the lines of an English top Coat, with much fullness in the back giving plenty of room across the shoulders and flaring to the hem.

The lapins are often belted and flared ever so slightly as to skirt. Belts are narrow of leather, silk cords, or made of the fur itself, and often this belt begins at the side seams, tying in the front and leaving a little bloused back that is awfully smart.

Fur coats are all wide and wrap around. They have raglan sleeves when the shoulders are broad enough to stand them. Dolman sleeves are also new. They are made in three-quarter, seven-eighth, full length or just long enough to let an inch of dress of contrasting color show underneath. If the dress is the same color, then the coat had better be full length because you don't want it to look just skimpy. Also, if you are having only one fur coat, the safest length is the full length, for then it goes with almost every dress you happen to have.

I haven't had space to touch the short fur coats, which are most important—nor the dressier variety, made of more expensive furs. These will have to come later with eulogies for themselves alone.

VERSION OF THE CAPE COAT IN LAPIN, USED FOR SPORTS OCCASIONS.

What Your Baby Needs

By Emilie Hoffman

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

THE safest place for the baby during the summer is at home, but if he must be included in the vacation party his comfort and needs should receive first consideration.

It is always a risk to make any changes in the diet during the summer, but you have probably made sure that your baby will get pure milk and water where you are going and that his customary daily regime will not be disturbed. It will be safer to boil the milk and, of course, you will boil all the drinking water. If the house into which you are going is not screened you had better provide cotton netting for the crib. If your baby cannot have these safety precautions you will do better to sacrifice your vacation this summer.

Give special care to your baby's needs in traveling. If you are nursing him this will simplify his feedings, for his food is always ready, and be sure to observe your regular feeding schedule during the trip. If the trip is not too long dry milk may be used for the bottle-fed baby, and a small solid alcohol burner will be found useful for heating the water.

If it is a hot day bathe baby's face and hands frequently during the trip. If you are traveling by automobile, water can be carried in a Thermos bottle. Do not allow any one to give your young child candy or cookies during the journey and do not tire and over-excite him by undue handling. Keep him quiet if you do not want to arrive at your destination with a cross or, perhaps, a sick baby.

Wherever you go see that nothing interferes with the regularity of your baby's diet, sleep, baths, &c. Of course you will keep the infant out of doors, protected from insects, and if you have accustomed him to daily sun baths at home continue these, but during the hot weather give them before 11 A. M. or after 3 P. M.

Do not make your baby public property. If you allow others to hold him, fondle him and play with him indiscriminately you will have a troublesome baby on your hands when you return home. But, aside from this, babies feel the heat intensely and the nervous system of the young child is so delicate that any undue excitement or changes in his mode of living may be the starting point of a serious illness.

So if your baby must go on a vacation allow no indiscretions that will upset the regular quiet routine to which he is accustomed.

The intestinal disturbances, which every mother tries to avert and that are so fatal during hot weather, are not always caused by incorrect diet; but the intelligent mother will exercise extreme care in the diet of her baby and under no consideration will she allow the introduction of new foods during the vacation.

The Beauty Shop

By Frances Olivier.

Preserve Your Lily-White Hands!

MOST women give their hands a reasonable amount of care in winter. But even those of us who are finicky in the matter of beauty care treat our hands rather casually in summer.

FRANCES OLIVIER

Some of us take precautions against having our faces sunburned, tanned, freckled or weatherbeaten, but precious few attempt to give the same protection to our hands. And what is unlovelier than a weathered, a swarthy, a red or a freckled hand?

Fortunately for most hands, the wearing of gloves in summer is required by the mode—except for swimming, golf, tennis, rowing and so forth. And there's the rub. There's nothing like a canoe oar or a golf club or a tennis racket for rubbing the bloom off a pair of otherwise satiny hands—not to mention the burning coarsening which results from exposure to the sun.

The Beauty Shop hesitates to suggest the wearing of gloves at most of these sports for fear of cramping anybody's style, though there are openwork sports gloves that are as comfortable as they are protective and smart. However, something must be done to keep a lady's hand ladylike, in spite of strenuous play.

Have you ever tried using vanishing cream on your hands? It is wonderfully softening and smoothing and whitening. Plus powder, it offers the hands pretty thorough protection against oars, rackets and the elements. Just try it. Our suggestion is a tan powder in this case—more in keeping with the sports spirit, you understand, and so easy to wash off in time for evening festivities.

Just because hands don't chap and get hurty these days is no good reason for neglecting the hand lotion. Close beside your soap, summer, winter and all time, should stand the good old reliable rose water and glycerine mixture or the equally popular lemon juice and glycerine concoction. The former you can buy ready prepared. The latter you can make yourself, easily, this way: Simply mix together equal parts lemon juice and glycerine — two cunces of each make a convenient quantity—and to these add two or three drops of carbolic acid.

If your hands are already freckled or "hopelessly" tanned, do not delay treatment. There are many excellent bleaches and freckle removers in the beauty market, and if you get fun out of making your own just send this department your stamped return envelope and we will send you some recipes. Ask for the leaflet on "Freckles and Tan."

One point we wish to emphasize and that is the necessity for taking even greater precautions against a new tanning and freckling after the bleaching. As you know, most bleaching preparations tend to make the skin thinner and more susceptible to renewed discoloration. And so, after the bleaching is complete, our advice is complete protection with a special sunproofing preparation every time you venture into the sun.

Oh, Go to Bed

By Eliot Kays Stone

"DAD, what's a spell-binder?"

"Well, Son, a spell-binder is a candidate or a politician who makes speeches from the stump or over the radio in favor of the candidates of his party."

"Why do they call a speech-maker a spell-binder?"

"Because, I suppose, he tries to weave a spell with words that will bind his hearers to his party."

"Can he spell 'binder?'"

"Oh, go to bed."

When Gardening

A KNEELING pad is a necessity if you weed your garden. Use a small board—a piece of old plank will do—and on this lay a bag filled with newspapers.

The bag can be made by folding a heavy crash or flour bag to the proper size and stitching along the three edges. The bag may be left open at one end, so fresh newspapers may readily be slipped inside. A piece of twine through one corner of the open end will make it possible to hang up the bag to dry it and keep it aired.

Put a hole and string in the board, so it may be hung near the other garden implements, where it will be handy.

Slipping the Plants

IT IS time to think about those cuttings you want from the box and garden plants for the winter. The twigs near the bottom of the plant are recommended as being the surest growers, but any sturdy twig will grow if planted in good soil and kept in a shady place for about a week.

Placing the cuttings into a glass or jar of water until they are well rooted, then planting them, will insure better growth.

Now is also a good time to lacquer the flower pots you will need next month for potting the plants, and while you are at it lacquer the old saucers and plates to use with the pots.

It Is Said

If you add a few thin slices of any mild soap to the water in which you put cut flowers they will remain fresh for over a week.

Salt sprinkled over the open coal fire will prevent the grease from starting a blaze while broiling.

Salt and soda are excellent remedies for stings of any kind.

You can clean the celluloid curtains of your automobile by applying turpentine and vaseline mixed to form a paste.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."
Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

"You're gonna see a lot of me from now on," Griff asserted. Voice and eye signalled his complete surrender to her still untarnished beauty. There was an engaging, candid glow on his boyish face. Marie felt herself weakening. She weakened to the extent of telling him to make himself useful while he was there and pin the rosette on the shoulder of her costume.

As he leaned toward her their eyes linked. The look in her face trembled on the brink of softness. The moment was pregnant with promise. Swiftly he might have encompassed her, had not Mac in his turn slipped into the room. His voice dripped the acid of sarcasm gory of "just one among two thousand soldiers."

"I'll tell you something," he murmured. "You ain't so hard-boiled at all." His voice fell to a whisper. "And I ain't hard-boiled either."

"I knew that the first time I looked at you," she said, and her voice was tremulous now. She looked at him with a half forlorn, uncertain smile. "I was glad then when Klotz put you in the cooler. I was afraid if I saw enough of you, I might fall for you. That usually means trouble. And I'm especially offa you, because you got a mean line."

"Oh, kid, this ain't a line I'm spilling," he said, impulsively draw-

Take it easy, Griff! Don't you know what he can do to you?

is he said, "I think you'd better go, Griff. Marie and I want to be alone."

Abruptly she turned cold toward both of them. "You mean Marie wants to be alone," she said, pushing them out the door. In the common rebuke comradeship revived, and they trudged barrackward arm in arm. Griff was murmurous with a happy sense of conquest. Mac sought to frown him down, but his heart was a drum of foreboding.

III.

Out of the guardhouse in a week, Griff saw to it that chance meetings with Marie multiplied. Reluctance to such encounters did not seem to develop on her part. Presently one day, as they met in a paradisiacal oasis beyond the ramparts of the teeming town, Griff found himself saying to the girl:

"I'm not going to talk about your past or my past. I'm more interested in futures. The outfit I'm with is very much like the racket you're in. I guess we both took it on the chin once, and maybe that's why we're both so hard-boiled."

"Maybe," she said. Flippancy was a soft earnestness to match his. Meeting him often seemed to have removed him from the cate had melted from her tones. There ing her into his arms. "It's on the level. I want to take you away from here—back home with me, where they got fire plugs and ice cream sodas and Coney Island and the subway."

"Gee, Griff," she said, slipping into his embrace, "that's heaven!"

The immediate future, however, seemed to savor more of the infernal regions. When Mac presently found Griff in Marie's dressing room, obviously on close terms with her, he burst into a tirade of abuse. The fact that both his comrade and the girl were obviously and sincerely in love did not deter Mac from trying to win Marie back. His efforts inflamed Griff. Despite the dancer's attempts to placate them, Griff and Mac came to blows for the first time in their acquaintance.

They battered each other savagely around her dressing room. Grave injury might have resulted, had not the bugle at that moment fortunately blown the call to arms. The Riffs had broken out again. As the two men, bruised and bloody, were marched off from the dance hall, Griff spat at his erstwhile buddy through his teeth, "Listen, you! I ain't through with you yet!"

"And I ain't started with you yet!" snarled Mac through clenched jaws.

STATE SOLON ACCUSED IN PROBE

ings said.

"Did you know you were carrying dynamite?" the justice asked.

"I wasn't sure but I had a suspicion," he answered.

Wants To Leave

"Do you want to get out of prison?" Justice Preston asked early in the hearing.

"I certainly do," Billings replied.

"Then answer one question," Preston demanded, "why have you never applied for a parole?"

No Parole

"Parole is for the benefit of those who are guilty of a crime and are sufficiently repentant to be released," Billings explained. "Not being guilty I felt that my case did not call for a parole."

Billings also disclosed that he has placed his own case as being secondary to that of Mooney, now serving a life sentence for the bombing.

Justice Preston inquired in detail why Billings had not applied for a pardon until this year.

Mooney First

The slender and youthful appearing convict explained that Mooney's case had been pending for years and he thought that case should be disposed of first as Mooney is a first termer while Billings had been convicted previously.

Billings, convicted in 1916 when only 22 years old, was sent to Folsom ,the state's penal institution for "two time" losers, because of a previous conviction while Mooney a first termer, was sent to San Quentin.

The convict was seated in front of a huge steel door which serves as a "master key" for all the prison cell blocks.

Riots Feared

The session opened officially at 5:15 when Billings was escorted to the witness chair. Just before the court started this unprecedented prison session, the "master key" door had been closed so that all of Folsom's convict population of 2200, except a few special duty men, were locked up.

The night session and the placing of Billings chair in front of the master key door were precautionary measures to prevent rioting, such as occurred Thanksgiving Day, 1279, when 13 men were killed here.

Part of the story of Estelle Smith a repudiation witness in the Billings trial ,was refuted when Billings permitted Justice Preston to examine a scar on his left thumb.

Story Told

Last week when Miss Smith appeared before the court in San Francisco in connection with the hearing on Billings' pardon she said he was at 721 Market street the day the explosion killed 10 persons at Steuart and Market streets and that she noticed a scar on his right thumb when they shook hands .

Refutation of Miss Smith's story was considered important only because it is part of a program by Edwin V. McKenzie to discredit the testimony of all repudiation witnesses.

McKenzie has expressed a desire that the court refuse to accept anything said by Miss Smith, discounting her original trial testimony, as well as her repudiation of that testimony. These are the same tactics he followed in dealing with John MacDonald, another repudiation witness whose return to California to tell the court he lied in identifying Mooney and Billings as the dynamiters resulted in the present pardon hearing.

Standards Altered

"I know," Billings said, when asked for an expression of his attitude on life, "that I would face the world with a different viewpoint than I had when I was first brought here.

"My standard of right and wrong has been altered through education I have received in this institution."

Billings also said that he was a religious man. He admitted that he served as a labor spy just prior to the Preparedness Day bombing but would not permit Justice Preston to rule that he really meant "spy."

Labor Spy

"No sir," Billings said. "The adjective is necessary to define what I was doing. I was a labor spy, just as some men were German spies and others French spies."

Billings explained that he was not a Socialist ,did not believe in overthrow of the government by armed force, was not and never had been connected with the Industrial Workers of the World or such groups.

" Ihave studied law," he replied when asked how he spent his spare time.

ATTACK STARTS ON S. F. BAY REGION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—UP—The attack on San Francisco by the "black" fleet was started today, with every faculty of the "blue" or defense forces strained to guard the district from capture .

Thirty-five army bombing planes from San Diego have star roles in the mimic war. The fleet of planes was reported late today to be heading toward the Golden Gate, according to Major Carl Spatz ,who is supervising the defense through radio contact with all his planes as well as the "blue" battleships.

The attack was made by ships and airplanes of the fleet during the joint army-navy maneuvers which will continue until Saturday.

The harbor has been plotted with a field of imaginary submarine mines, to protect the district from the "blacks" if they should break through the defenses at the Gate and enter the bay.

Troops and planes, including the army's biggest bombers, have been brought to the bay region from all Pacific coast points to add to the defense strength, Maj. Spatz pointed out.

"In spite of such preparations," Spatz said, "the attack continues to assume a menacing aspect"

CARQUINEZ ARRIVALS

Arrivals at the Hotel Carquinez yesterday included H. B. Cadson and family of Des Moines Iowa; Mrs. Ben Whitlow, Dunsmuir and G. J. O'Mara, Fresno.

SCHOOL PAPER NAMES NEW EDITOR

Virginia Giegoldt, graduating senior at Richmond Union high school, was yesterday chosen as editor of the Hi-Nus, weekly publication of the local high school.

There are fourteen members of this year's staff. Several of the pupils have already had experience on the staff of the Hi-Nus, and the remainder of the staff consists of students well known for scholarship or in school activities. This staff is expected to produce a publication that can vie with the best high school papers in the bay region.

Other student editors named yesterday were: Edwin Poole, business manager; Harman Jatta, boys' sports; Janet Baker, exchange editor; Barbara Esola, girls' sports; Barbara Guanziroll, makeup editor; and Ida Zundell club editor.

Other members of the staff who have not yet been appointed to special offices are: Warren Black, Douglas Boswell, Thelma Grice, Mabel Hudson, Joe Ribarich, Dorothy Parker and George Miller.

The first publication of the fall semester will be issued next Thursday. Miss Norinne Buchanan will direct the activities of the staff during the coming term.

Legion Post Fetes Veterans

Richmond Post of the American Legion was host last night to members of the Admiral Dewey Camp, Spanish American War Veterans, and Honor Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars at a "party" meeting in the Memorial hall.

William Cox was the speaker of the evening, basing his talk on the Phillipine Islands where he has spent considerable time.

Following the meeting the drill team under the direction of George Tandy presented an exhibition, which was enthusiastically received by the gathering.

A banquet was served, and after-dinner speeches were made by mmbers of th Admiral Dewey camp on their experiences during the Spanish American War. The veterans who talked were: Thomas Nee, Otto Poulsen, Bob Robbins, George Sanderson and Harry Hunt.

AID PROGRAM FOR DROUGHT ANNOUNCED

dent announced, but at least 250 counties were "most acutely affected," and must be given some degree of relief.

"It is the view of the conference that the burden of effective organization to meet the situation over the winter in the acutely affected counties rests primarily upon the counties and the states themselves, supplemented by some cooperation and assistance as may be found necessary on the part of the federal government," the president said.

Program Mapped

The following detailed program of procedure was mapped out, the president announced:

Each governor who considers that a situation requiring emergency relief exists within his state shall create a drought relief committee to take general charge of relief measures within the state.

The state committee to organize county committees where necessary.

Committees Named

The county committees to receive individual applications for relief and recommend the method of relief.

The president to set up a committee to coordinate national relief activities.

Development by State committees in cooperation with federal agencies of provision for credit beyond state resources.

Relief Funds

Organization by the Red Cross of its own committees in each drought county, with a national relief fund of $5,000,000.

Reduction of rates by the railroads.

Dissemination of information by the agriculture department as to the sources of feed supply and localities to which livestock may be shipped.

Creation of state committees in those states with a surplus of feed, to cooperate with committees of states having a surplus of livestock.

TEN MILLION DOLLAR RAIN STORM FALLS

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. —UP— A "ten million dollar" rain swept the Ohio river valley today, soaking the parched farm lands until pools of water formed on the surface.

Kentucky, Tennessee, southern Illinois, Indiana, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia, all were liberally moistened by the downpour, the weather bureau reported.

Around Louisville and Springfield, Ill., the precipitation exceeded one inch. Nearly every other district in the territory had more than half an inch.

Crops were burning up and pastures baked crisp by the drought, which had not been broken by a good rain for seven weeks.

POLICE BALL PLANNED SOON

Large numbers of innocent citizens will suddenly feel extremely panicky when the hand of the law is laid upon their shoulders during the next several months.

But they need not ramble back through their mind in quest of some occasion on which they went over fifty miles per hour, for the guardian of the law will only be advocating the purchase of a ticket for the Policemen's Annual Ball, which will take place Oct. 4 at East Shore Park.

Plans for the ball are progressing under the direction of Officer R. A. Cox.

Other officers who are members of the committee for the affair are: William Campbell and Ernest Phipps, general committee; F. A. Fray, decorations; William Crangle, refreshments; and A. J. Cundy entertainment.

Jealous Man Slays Suitor

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 14.—UP—With his former wife trying to conceal his victim, Maurice Rose of Chicago today shot and killed Ben Lowe, 26 year old factory watchman in a room of the plant where Lowe was employed.

Police said that Rose, before pumping five bullets into the watchman's body had given Mrs. Gladys Rose who divorced him two years ago, the choice of discontinuing her friendship with Lowe or returning to Rose and her children in Chicago.

Mrs. Rose said she had gone back to her former husband's home three months ago but had not remained because she "loved Ben too much."
